

Knowledgebase > Using the Support Portal > My login to the support portal isn't working

My login to the support portal isn't working

Melissa - 2024-01-15 - Using the Support Portal

Please note you need to register for this support portal separately. Login details from other support desks will not work on this page.

To register, please visit the link below:

<https://help.floathosting.com/register>

If the login details you are using are not working or you simply do not remember them, you can always set up a new password by going to the Login page

(<https://help.floathosting.com/login>) and clicking on the "Need a password reminder?" link.